Fruit for the Kingdom Matthew 13

TSIYON.ORG

Messiah said: "To you it is given to know the mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven, but it is not given to them. For whoever has, to him will be given, and he will have abundance, but whoever doesn't have, from him will be taken away even that which he has." Matthew 13:11,12

From Eliyahu

Greetings in Messiah,

Has it ever bothered you to see people you care about with no interest in the Kingdom?

Has it ever bothered you to see people joyfully respond to the truth - only to leave it as soon as it becomes inconvenient for them?

Is it worrisome to you that more people seem to fall away than stand firm over the long haul?

Why does this happen?

...And here is the really scary question; Does this mean that our best efforts at spreading the word of the Kingdom are in vain?

Clearly, my answer to this last question has to be "no". Otherwise, I would have quite this ministry a long time ago and you wouldn't be reading this newsletter right now.

What I see is: the relative worthy few that persevere to the end are worth all of the losses along the way. These are the overcomers who successfully transverse the narrow road. Ultimately, all of our efforts are about reaching them. These are fruit for the Kingdom.

Yeshua explained all about this in Matthew 13. He said a lot of things there that, frankly, run entirely counter to what most of us have heard from the pulpit. This is what you might call "insider information" that He shares with His inner circle. Yes, He had/has an inner circle, and He does treat them differently than other folks. Yes, these worthy ones have special privileges. That's one of those controversial things He tells us in Matthew 13. He said:

“To you it is given to know the mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven, but it is not given to them. For whoever has, to him will be given, and he will have abundance, but whoever doesn’t have, from him will be taken away even that which he has.” Matthew 13:11,12

Do you know what that means? On its face this statement tells us that there are secrets of the Kingdom that are not given to everybody. This implies an elite group that do receive the secrets of the Kingdom which are denied to everyone else. That very idea raises all sorts of red flags and sets off numerous bells and whistles. Just acknowledging what Messiah really said here can soon evoke nasty words like "cult" from the brainwashed masses. Yet, these ARE Messiah's words, so what do they mean?

The answer to that is "insider information" as I've already stated. I will be addressing all this in our Sabbath meeting online tonight at 8 CST, with our Tsiyon Partners.

Blessing and Shalom,

Eliyahu ben David

PS - Have you noticed how the unfolding program I shared in the Daniel Seminar of the UN and world government has been rapidly moving forward? The latest point of interest in this unfolding nightmare is commented on in the news article below. In the Daniel Seminar I pointed out how President Obama has had an inappropriately close relationship with the UN as compared to all other US presidents, even blurring the lines between the US and the UN. Now, we learn he has plans of leading the UN when he leaves office at the end of his current term as US president. If you didn't like how he changed America as US president, wait until he is running the UN! See the article below.

Report: Netanyahu to lead effort in thwarting Obama bid for UN chief

Reprint: Jurusalem Post, YASSER OKBI/ MAARIV HASHAVUA - 01/08/2016

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu remembers well just how US President Barack Obama brushed aside Israeli objections and went ahead with the P5+1 nuclear agreement with Iran.

According to the Kuwaiti newspaper 'Al-Jarida,' Israeli leader will rally moderate Arabs to sabotage Obama plan to succeed Ban Ki-moon.

Now, Netanyahu is reportedly planning some personal payback.

According to the Kuwaiti newspaper Al-Jarida, Netanyahu will make common cause with moderate Arab governments in order to sabotage Obama's plan to succeed Ban Ki-moon when the South Korean diplomat ends his term as United Nations secretary-general on December 31 of this year.

Al-Jarida quoted sources as saying that Obama has already discussed the issue of running for secretary-general with Democrats, Republicans, and Jewish officials in the US.

The sources said that once Netanyahu got wind of Obama's plans, the prime minister began to make efforts to submarine what he has referred to as "the Obama project."

"Wasn't eight years of having Obama in office enough?" Netanyahu is quoted in the Kuwaiti daily as telling associates. "Eight years during which he ignored Israel? And now he wants to be in a position that is liable to cause us hardships in the international arena."

The newspaper cited the widely acknowledged fact that personal ties between Netanyahu and Obama are frayed.

"Obama is the worst president Israel has had to deal with and the worst president for the Middle East and its allies, the moderate Arab states," a Netanyahu aide is quoted as saying.

A source close to Netanyahu did not deny to Al-Jarida that the premier is aiming to "torpedo the Obama project," noting that "his presidency was characterized by [Washington's] moving closer to the Muslim Brotherhood, toppling the regime of Hosni Mubarak, and attempts to ally itself with political Islam."

"Obama's term is ending with him forging an alliance with Iran, coming to an agreement with it on its nuclear program which in the end will result in a similar scenario that took place with North Korea," the aide said.

"Israel will not allow this to happen," the source is quoted as saying. "It will take all of the necessary steps to prevent Iran from manufacturing a nuclear weapon either covertly or overtly."

The prime minister's associate told Al-Jarida that Netanyahu "sees an opportunity to establish good relations based on shared interests with moderate states from which Obama has moved away."
