The Red Horse Rider of Revelation symbolizes not only war, but also a lack of peace in the Earth. In our latest message we examine how the nuclear threat figures into that, as we also generally consider the geopolitical landscape of 2016.

From Eliyahu

Greetings Friends,

If you were following Tsiyon back in 2008 you may remember that we did a series of radio programs in that year on Revelation. In fact, we literally taught on the Horsemen of Revelation pretty much all summer. You may remember that we were seeing how the developments pictured by the "ride" of each of the Horsemen would progress from that year, and since then we have often pointed to the mid-decade period that we are in right now as a time of intense unrest and war, especially in the Middle East. Now, we are seeing these events right on schedule.

As I write there is a military "exercise" going on in Saudi Arabia under Saudi leadership involving 20 Arab and/or Sunni Muslim nations training as a coalition together. This is the largest such Muslim coalition exercise ever, involving 150,000 to 300,000 troops. While these troops are massed in northern Arabia, South of Syria, they are allied with Turkey to the North of Syria. Although called an "exercise" the possibility exists that these forces could converge on Syria from both sides in a massive ground assault, in a huge flood of troops. This exercise is meant to intimidate the Shi'a Muslim block, led by the Iranians in Syria, with Russia doing the heavy hitting against Syrian rebels who are seeking to oust Syrian President Bashar al-Assad. In a nutshell, the Sunni coalition wants Assad out while Russia and the Shiites want Assad to remain in office. The block that ultimately wins this struggle hopes to be established as the dominant Muslim force in the Middle East. However this develops, more death and destruction in the Middle East is a certainty.

As the Middle East events have continued to unfold we often hear from our long-time members and friends, who have been listening to us predicting this for a long time. For example, one brother recently wrote:

"Thank you very -very much for your recent and timely emails concerning the Exodus and our need to prepare ourselves. And I remember four or five years ago you were informing 'us that the Muslim nations would be attacking one another and sure enough, they are!"

Thank you Brother, for remembering!

While the Middle East is on center stage right now, the Red Horse Rider is not slacking in the rest of the world in 2016. We want to take a survey of that big picture in tonight's message. People often see a connection between the Red Horse and nukes, so we want to look into that threat, right up to today.

Really, we are living in a time of unprecedented unrest in the world, the worst so far in the 21st century. As Scripture says of the Red Horse Rider:

"..it was given power to take peace from the earth.." Revelation 6:4

As foreboding as all of this may be, there is more to come before we arrive at the Tribulation period. As Messiah said of this period;

"You will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you aren't troubled, for all this must happen, but the end is not yet." Matthew 24:6

Yes friends, "all this must happen" but we need not be troubled by it. Instead, we see it as a road sign, pointing on toward the Remnant Exodus, then the final end-time events, and finally - the return of our Messiah!

Truly, we are living in exciting days!

Blessing and Shalom,

Eliyahu ben David

Largest ever US-South Korea military drill planned as a 'warning to Pyongyang'

The joint US-South Korean exercises scheduled for March will be largest military drills ever staged on the Korean Peninsula and are both a warning to Pyongyang and an effort to reassure the jittery public in the South.

The parallel Key Resolve and Foal Eagle exercises are scheduled to commence on March 7, with the field-training exercises that make up Foal Eagle lasting until April 30. The drills will involve 15,000 US troops, twice the number of previous years, and will serve to demonstrate Washington's firepower.

The US will deploy a combat aviation brigade to South Korea for the duration of the manoeuvres, as well as a mobile US Marine brigade, an aircraft carrier and its attendant fleet, a nuclear-powered submarine and aerial tankers to refuel fighter aircraft.

South Korea will commit some 290,000 personnel, including special forces, more than double its usual deployment for the annual drills.

The joint exercises will commence just weeks after North Korea carried out its fifth underground nuclear test and launched a rocket in what analysts claim was a disguised test of long-range ballistic missile technology.

In an additional shot across Pyongyang's bows, the drills will for the first time simulate scenarios in which the regime of Kim Jong-un, the North Korean leader, has collapsed.

The multiple-stage exercises will require the US and South Korean forces to react to war breaking out, operations in and around Pyongyang and the recovery of "key facilities that are located deep within North Korea", a Defence Ministry official told The Korea Herald.

North Korea's two rocket facilities are in the far north of the country, while analysts believe that many of its military assets are also concealed in networks of tunnels and bunkers close to the Chinese border.

This year's amphibious manoeuvres - known as the Ssangyong exercises - will be larger and more elaborate than ever before, with 7,000 US troops practicing coming ashore aboard Osprey tilt-rotor aircraft and from landing craft from the USS New Orleans.

As well as sending a message to Pyongyang, the exercises are designed to reassure the South Korean public of their security, said Rah Jong-yil, a former head of South Korean intelligence and an expert on the regime in Pyongyang.

"Recent events here have made South Korean people feel a little insecure, especially the rapid development of the North's nuclear and missile programmes, so the exercises are a welcome sign of Washington's guarantee of the alliance", he told The Telegraph.

North Korea is expected to express its displeasure at the drills through its state media. In previous years, Pyongyang has described the exercises as the prelude to a pre-emptive nuclear strike "to infringe on the sovereignty and dignity of the DPRK".
