From Eliyahu

Greetings Friends,

As you probably know by now, Hebrew years run from spring to spring, so don't track the same as Roman years. That means the Hebrew Year that began in the spring of 2015 is just coming to an end with this Sabbath. That makes this our last newsletter of this Hebrew Year that began in the spring of 2015.

Before moving on into the next Sabbath Cycle of years, I want to pause and review some of the major turning points of the year we have just completed.

It's odd that so many who had been talking about the Tetrad Moons in advance of 2015 have now totally dropped the subject, perhaps because of some embarrassment. That's because some of the main teachers and authors on the subject had suggested that the Tetrad Moons meant the "Pre-Trib Rapture" would happen in 2015 or "the Return of Christ" would happen in 2015. Obviously, those things didn't happen.

While also seeing the Tetrad Moons as meaningful, as far back as 2010 I was taking exception to those "Rapture" and/or "Return" projections as regards the Tetrad Moons. However, regardless of those erroneous interpretations of meaning, those Tetrad Moons DO reveal 2015 to be a marked year!

So what happened in 2015 that is so profound?

In my live presentation tonight I will highlight 7 turning points of 2015 that have changed the trajectory of the future in accord with Bible prophecy, and will be powerfully affecting the world from 2015 forward.

More about this tonight, with the live presentation entitled "Turning Points of 2015 In Perspective".

Shalom, Eliyahu

Islamic State is on the brink of using NUCLEAR WEAPONS, chilling report warns

THE barbaric Islamic State could be on the brink of unleashing nuclear weapons against the West, a top researcher has warned.

Reprint: Thu, Mar 31, 2016

The Islamic State could be on the brink of using nuclear weapons

Harvard researcher Matthew Bunn revealed that extremist groups such as ISIS are “evolving” and could be armed with nuclear weapons in the near future.

The report on Managing the Atom by the US university researcher details the threat of three types of nuclear or radiological terrorism.

IG

Research claim the evil group and other terrorist groups could have acquired nuclear arms

This includes detonation of a nuclear bomb, sabotage of a nuclear facility and use of a dirty bomb to spread radioactive material.

But the report looks in greater detail at the possibility of a nuclear bomb being detonated as it would be “most catastrophic”.

The report comes as the Nuclear Security Summit sets to take place today in Washington.

Barack Obama will lead the summit today

Western leaders including David Cameron are growing increasingly fearful that terrorist groups are closer than ever to their goal of obtaining a chemical or nuclear warhead.

The authors also wrote: “The radiation from a dirty bomb, by contrast, might not kill anyone—at least in the near term—but could impose billions of dollars in economic disruption and cleanup costs.

“The effects of sabotage of a nuclear facility would depend heavily on the specific nature of the attack, but would likely range between the other two types of attack in severity.

“The difficulty of achieving a successful sabotage is also intermediate between the other two.”

The report looks into ways to tighten up security at nuclear sites as well as protecting hospitals and industrial sites in a desperate bid to stop such attacks.

It says: “Making a crude nuclear bomb would not be easy, but is potentially within the capabilities of a technically sophisticated terrorist group, as numerous government studies have confirmed.”

The two-day summit will be hosted by Barack Obama and comes in the wake of the Brussels terror attacks which left 31 people dead.
