Revelation: 144,000 and the Great Multitude

The Great Multitude: Who Are They?

The ULTIMATE Sukkot!

*After these things I saw, and behold,
a great multitude which no one was able to number,
out of every nation, even tribes and peoples and tongues,
standing before the throne, and before the Lamb,
having been clothed with white robes,
and in their hands palm branches.
And they cry with a great voice, saying,
Salvation to our God sitting on the throne, and to the Lamb.
And all the angels and of the elders and of the four living creatures stood around the throne.
And they fell before the throne on their faces, and worshiped God, saying, Amen.
Blessing and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving and honor and power and strength to our God forever and ever. Amen.*
Revelation 7:9-12

Listener Feedback & Answers:

Grudging Bondslaves?

Q. From a listener - Are the devout meant to be happy servants one of another or grudging bondslaves to the law? Did Christ come to serve the law or to gladly serve his people Israel, even with his very life? Yea I believe Christ came to fulfill the law, in that we could never and will never be able to by our own effort; Yea and it's lawful for me to even say that neither was even Abraham, Moses or Elijah able to fulfill the law unless Christ was in them to affirm how he would come to deliver them as well in that promise...

A. That's a very passionate and articulate email! Of course, I agree with a lot of it. Most of all, that we can't do a thing without His empowerment. That said, you are left with the problem that the verse (Rev 7:3) specifically says that the 144000 ARE slaves. I didn't make that up. Therefore, your argument is with the verse, not with me. And what of words like these of Messiah? [See Matt 25:14-30] Messiah speaks of His followers here as His slaves and indicates that they must meet His expectations to be admitted into the Kingdom. Shall we just throw this out of the Scriptures? We would do so at our own peril. Notice that the only slave that was 'grudging' here [in these verses] was the one who didn't want to do anything! That slave received according to what he produced for the Kingdom - nothing at all. The others all knew that they were expected to produce something for the Kingdom and they did their duty as slaves ought. They also each received a fine reward for their labors. So it is with the Kingdom of Messiah.

Concluding Thoughts:

It is a pleasure to be writing you during the Sukkot festival. Truly, it is a joyous time of year, a time of freedom and of salvation, being the time when our Messiah was born. Praises to His Name! The book of Revelation points forward to a Sukkot to come that will be the ultimate Sukkot celebration, thanks to what Messiah has done for us all. We find this in Revelation 7, where a Great Multitude from all nations tribes and languages join in a universal Sukkot celebration! Dawn and I were uplifted and inspired by what we learned from the Scriptures about this Great Multitude, and we think you will be too, especial at this most appropriate time of year for this message. Enjoy, and may you and your family have an uplifting and even gleeful Sukkot.

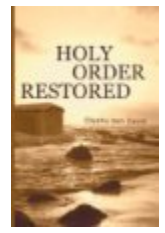

Shalom in Messiah,

Eliyahu ben David
