The Babel Conspiracy

YHWH said,
*Behold, they are one people,
and they have all one language,
and this is what they begin to do.
Now nothing will be withheld from them, which they conspire to do.*

Genesis 11:6

LAS VEGAS MEETING UPDATE:

John and Sue were blessed to be able to meet with 9 ministry partners (and 2 of their precious children) in the Las Vegas area last week. Eliyahu and Dawn joined the attendees via telephone, to the delight of all. Questions were answered, contact information was exchanged, and the partners have decided to begin meeting regularly for study and prayer! Other partners in the area were not able to attend the first meeting, but have expressed interest in joining subsequent meetings. What a joy to be able to fellowship with these faithful members of the Remnant! Please hold them up in prayer as they begin building their local community. Let us know if you would like to make contact with other believers in your area. If at all possible, we will put you in contact with them. So many of us hunger for fellowship and worship, so let's start building community wherever we can!

Gilgamesh tomb believed found - BBC News

Archaeologists in Iraq believe they may have found the lost tomb of King Gilgamesh - the subject of the oldest "book" in history.

The Epic Of Gilgamesh - written by a Middle Eastern scholar 2,500 years before the birth of Christ - commemorated the life of the ruler of the city of Uruk, from which Iraq gets its name.

Now, a German-led expedition has discovered what is thought to be the entire city of Uruk - including, where the Euphrates once flowed, the last resting place of its famous King.

"I don't want to say definitely it was the grave of King Gilgamesh, but it looks very similar to that described in the epic," Jorg Fassbinder, of the Bavarian department of Historical Monuments in Munich, told the BBC World Service's Science in Action programme.

Magnetic

In the book - actually a set of inscribed clay tablets - Gilgamesh was described as having been buried under the Euphrates, in a tomb apparently constructed when the waters of the ancient river parted following his death.

"We found just outside the city an area in the middle of the former Euphrates river the remains of such a building which could be interpreted as a burial," Mr Fassbinder said.

Who can compare with him in kingliness? Who can say, like Gilgamesh, I am king? - The Epic Of Gilgamesh

He said the amazing discovery of the ancient city under the Iraqi desert had been made possible by modern technology.

"By differences in magnetisation in the soil, you can look into the ground," Mr Fassbinder added.

"The difference between mudbricks and sediments in the Euphrates river gives a very detailed structure."

This creates a magnetogram, which is then digitally mapped, effectively giving a town plan of Uruk.

'Venice in the desert'

"The most surprising thing was that we found structures already described by Gilgamesh," Mr Fassbinder stated.

"We covered more than 100 hectares. We have found garden structures and field structures as described in the epic, and we found Babylonian houses."

But he said the most astonishing find was an incredibly sophisticated system of canals.

"Very clearly, we can see in the canals some structures showing that flooding destroyed some houses, which means it was a highly developed system. "[It was] like Venice in the desert."

Tsiyon Commentary on: "Gilgamesh tomb believed found"

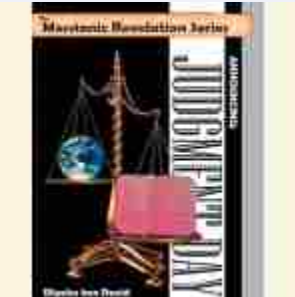

The BBC News article above relates directly to our current series of radio programs. Recently we have revealed that Gilgamesh, king of Uruk, and the most popular pagan hero of the ancient near east, is the same as the Biblical Nimrod of Genesis 10. His capital city, Uruk is the same as the Biblical Erek, with the vowel sound slightly changed in Hebrew. Another alternate spelling is Eruk which is pronounced essentially the same as Enoch, name of the first city founded by Cain before the Flood. Indications are that Uruk/Unuk/Enoch is in fact that same location/city, founded by Cain, reestablished by Nimrod after the Flood. In reestablishing this primary antediluvian pagan cult site, Nimrod was reestablishing the mystery religion of Cain, which, from there, spread throughout the world. Of course, that spreading was not Nimrod's original plan. The plan was to use the mystery religion to keep every one together, as one world, under Nimrod's power. Nimrod was an anti-christ, in the same mold as Cain.

Pass It On

If you know someone who would like to receive this newsletter, please forward.

Fortunately, YHWH frustrated the languages of the people at the Tower of Babel to break up that ancient anti-christ conspiracy. That divine act slowed down the one-world conspiracy until now, when the push toward one-world is once again moving in high gear.

..And now they have found the ancient tomb of this so-called "mythical" figure. One can only wonder how long it will be before a real life clone of Nimrod, frankensteined into existence by modern biotechnology, will be walking around on planet Earth. Sounds weird, I know. But from what I've been reading, nothing is too weird for these people! ..Stay tuned!

From Eliyahu

One united world is supposed to be a good thing. It's not. Not in this world. Here's why: Fallen man is evil and simply can't handle that kind of all-encompassing power. I know, I know. We all want to think people are basically good, not bad. The world loves to believe that the good in man will eventually triumph and that man will evolve into that higher sort of being, capable of living in perfect harmony as one-world together. Notice that in this dream man get's the glory - God has nothing to do with it. It is back to the Garden of Eden - but without the need of God to get there. This has been tried before -twice - and both times it was a dismal failure. Why? Because it is beyond the fallen nature of man to produce either a government or a ruler who can pull this off without resort to tyranny. Such world-wide tyranny, with all the power consolidated in one man (make no mistake - one ambitious man will claw his way to the top!) is entirely smothering to all human freedom and individuality. It is the world's worst nightmare, as we all will soon find out first hand.

There WILL BE a righteous one-world government though! It is called the Kingdom of Messiah. Only He is worthy to wear the crown of universal authority to ensure righteousness, justice, peace and prosperity to the whole world. He alone has proven His unerring integrity and has secured the right to be King of Heaven and Earth. All others who seek to put themselves in that position are imposters, conspirators and liars. Worse yet, they are anti-christs, seeking to take the place that only the one true Christ can fill. This is why, to get into that position they must make a pact with satan, and must resort to his power, because no man has the power to fulfill the enormity of that job by mere mortal power alone. As globalism is making its end-time play before our eyes, it is a most fitting time to consider the conspiracy called "The Tower of Babel." The issues are the same, and are as current as tomorrow's headlines. Preparation is a key to survival in times of crisis. Consider those issues, and be prepared for what is coming, as you listen to our most recent program.

Blessings and Shalom,

Eliyahu ben David
