How Emily Changed Her Life! - A few short months ago Emily, while still a teen, was so shy she was afraid to speak with anyone she didn't already know. This made life difficult and unhappy for Emily. Amazingly, that's all over now. How did such an amazing change occur so quickly? Not therapy. No doctors or therapists were involved. No hypnosis. No self-help books. No transcendental meditation or yoga either. Emily says that Messiah intervened to make this remarkable change in her life. Meet Emily in this video and consider her story. If Emily changed her life so can you!

How Emily Changed Her Life!

From Eliyahu

Hello friends,

This morning I was in my car, getting a few things done before Sabbath. On my way home I turned on the radio. Since it is Sunday morning there was a lot of religious programming playing across the dial. I seldom listen to such programs, but every now and then I will listen in my car just to see which way the wind is currently blowing in the religious system.

I happened to come across a program where the radio preacher promised to be "preaching on" Ecclesiastes. I am very familiar with Ecclesiastes, with a fairly complete outline of the book in my head. Solomon, and others after him in his office, wrote the book. Solomon started out well, but later he was tempted by his great wealth and position, and devoted himself to his own riches and pleasures. Ecclesiastes chronicles Solomon's personal journey in which he, being among the great and the super-wealthy of the earth, indulged his every whim and desire, going after and attaining every earthly thing his heart desired. Ecclesiastes does not recommend that you and I do the same. You see, Solomon learned his lesson and repented of his gargantuan me-binge. His underlying discovery, chronicled in Ecclesiastes, is this:

Whatever my eyes desired, I didn't keep from them. I didn't withhold my heart from any joy, for my heart rejoiced because of all my labor, and this was my portion from all my labor. Then I looked at all the works that my hands had worked, and at the labor that I had labored to do; and behold, all was vanity and a chasing after wind, and there was no profit under the sun. Ecc 2:10-11

Yes, Solomon came to see that chasing after fame and fortune is a vain thing, of no real value at all. In the end, he came to see that there is only one pursuit of life that is of real value. Solomon put it this way:

This is the end of the matter. All has been heard. Fear Elohim, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. Eccl 12:13

Yes, what life is all about is pleasing our Creator, rather than ourselves.

Well, the message of Ecclesiastes being what it is, when the radio preacher said he would be teaching from that book I had reason to be hopeful that I would hear a message eschewing worldly pursuits and lifting up the value of serving YHWH. Unfortunately, that did not turn out to be the message that was preached.

Soon, a few verses of Ecclesiastes, taken out of context, were used to support the idea that the "Christian" should have it all. Fame, fortune and pleasure in this life and eternal life with "Christ" when this life is over. It turns out, according to this guy, that it is not all about us pleasing God after all - it's actually all about Him pleasing us!

Isn't that special? Isn't that what people want to hear, offered up on a silver platter.

Unfortunately, though the claim was made that this was the message of Ecclesiastes, it was in fact exactly the opposite of what that book really says!

My little adventure with the wayward radio preacher and his deceptive message was a reminder to me of the tide this Tsiyon ministry is bucking. There are so many voices out there with a message more attractive to the flesh than you will ever hear at Tsiyon. Most will choose the deception over the truth every time. Most of the support will continue to go to the deceivers who are holding up the glitzy sign promising prosperity, but actually leading to oblivion. Messiah warned of this:

Enter in by the narrow gate; for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leads to destruction, and many are those who enter in by it. How narrow is the gate, and restricted is the way that leads to life! Few are those who find it. Matt 7:13+14

The "broad way" - the popular way - leads to destruction. The vast numbers are headed there, not where we are pointing.

Messiah has told us that we need to be concerned with following Him, saying what He is saying - not about having a popular message. We are here for the few - the people who are looking for the narrow way that actually leads to life!

YHWH has sent us people like that. We are often amazed at the spiritual blessings that are displayed in their lives when they act on the things that we are teaching here at Tsiyon. The truth produces good fruit. We have real-life testimonies from some of these people that demonstrate lives changed for the better through serving Him. In fact, our latest program, being aired this Sabbath, highlights the testimonies of three different individuals who have humbly chosen to serve Him and have been blessed in doing it. These include a "senior" like me and a couple inspiring young people - people of all ages can do this. No marketing, no hype, no deception - just the simple truth of lives changed by obedience to the Divine Will. This simple honesty is refreshing and encouraging, in the midst of a world that never stops selling dreams that soon become nightmares. Listen to these examples of people who have acted on the truth and you will be uplifted and inspired by it.

Shalom, Eliyahu ben David

Obama Support of Palestinian State at Security Council – A knife in the back of Israel.

Reprint of: DEBKAFfile Exclusive Report May 6, 2015

Barack Obama plans to punish Israel again

Barack Obama plans to punish Israel again.

debkafile reports exclusively from Washington: US President Barack Obama did not wait for Binyamin Netanyahu to finish building his new government coalition by its deadline at midnight Wednesday, May 6, before going into action to pay him back for forming a right-wing cabinet minus any moderate figure for resuming negotiations with the Palestinians.

Banking on Netanyahu's assertion while campaigning for re-election that there would be no Palestinian state during his term in office, Obama is reported exclusively by our sources to have given the hitherto withheld green light to European governments to file a UN Security Council motion proclaiming an independent Palestinian state. Although Netanyahu left the foreign affairs portfolio in his charge and available to be filled by a suitably moderate figure as per the White House's expectations did not satisfy the US President.

The White House is confident that, with the US voting in favor, the motion will be passed by an overwhelming majority and therefore be binding on the Israeli government.

To show the administration was in earnest, senior US officials sat down with their French counterparts in Paris last week to sketch out the general outline of this motion. According to our sources, they began addressing such questions as the area of the Palestinian state, its borders, security arrangements between Israel and the Palestinians and whether or not to set a hard-and-fast timeline for implementation, or phrase the resolution as a general declaration of intent.

Incorporating a target date in the language would expose Israel to Security Council sanctions for non-compliance.

It was indicated by the American side in Paris that the Obama administration would prefer to give Netanyahu a lengthy though predetermined time scale to reconsider his Palestinian policy or even possibly to broaden and diversify his coalition by introducing non-aligned factions or figures into such key posts as foreign affairs.

At the same time, both American and French diplomats are already using the club they propose to hang over the Netanyahu government's head for gains in other spheres.

French President Francois Hollande, for instance, the first foreign leader ever to attend a Gulf Council of Cooperation summit, which opened in Riyadh Tuesday to discuss Iran and the Yemen war, used the opportunity to brief Gulf Arab rulers on Washington's turnaround on the Israeli-Palestinian issue.

And US Secretary of State John Kerry plans to present the Obama administration's new plans for Palestinian statehood to Saudi leaders during his visit to Riyadh Wednesday and Thursday, May 6-7. Kerry will use Washington's willingness to meet Palestinian aspirations as currency for procuring Saudi and Gulf support for a Yemen ceasefire and their acceptance of the nuclear deal shaping up with Iran.
