What if the Christian Church is not really the movement founded upon Christ and the Apostles in the 1st Century? What if the Christian Church is really a heretical schism that broke away from that original movement later, in a whole other century? What if the schism group eventually became larger than the original group? What if the larger schism rewrote history to appear as if THEY were the original group? Would you be fooled by this bait-and-switch tactic? Which movement would you want to be a part of, the original or the break-away group? Consider the real evidence. Tsiyon Partners can view this live presentation tonight at 8 CST here: Tsiyon.net.

“Arise, shine; for your light has come, and the glory of YHWH is risen on you. For, behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the peoples; but YHWH will arise on you, and his glory shall be seen on you.” Isaiah 60:1, 2

From Eliyahu

Greetings in Messiah,

Here is a verse that explains a lot in the times in which we live:

If the foundations are destroyed, What can the righteous do? Psalm11:3

All around us we see chaos and trouble. Societies all over the world are reeling from winds of political, religious and social change coming in upon them at break-neck speed. On the one hand we see conservatives clinging to what they see as the foundations of society that they have been depending upon to provide stability for their lives. On the other hand we see a wave of "progressive" activism that is not content to ignore the established foundations - they are determined to tear the foundations down.

At this point it appears that the "progressives" are winning, but their final "victory" will not come without a lot of opposition, pain and death. The foundations of the world system are falling down around us all, even upon our heads.

Why is this happening now?

There are a number of reasons, but there is one I want to focus on right now. Here it is:

The foundations of this world were never solid upon The Rock. Instead, this entire world has been built upon one lie after another; a foundation of shifting sand. It is not only the present lies that now betray us. It is the accumulation of lies from the beginning of the world till now, heaped up as one grain of sand upon another, lie upon lie upon lie, that now shift and move under the prodigious weight of the modern world, soon to cause this artificial construct called "the world" to come crashing down in a horrific pile of splinters.

Where, oh where, can the righteous turn to be saved from this imminent disaster?

Many continue to turn to the Christian Church. How is that working out?

Christ is ever-faithful, but the same cannot be said for the Christian Church. The Church system is failing hundreds of millions. Pope Francis, spiritual leader over a billion Catholics, is telling them and us that we all need to embrace a one world government to solve our problems, and that we need to start by adopting the United Nations "climate change" policies, and even Agenda 2030 - a scheme in which we give up our freedom to gain security. The really scary part of this is that many well known Protestant leaders are giving support to the Pope and his plans. Haven't they read the Book of Revelation? One world government is a very bad idea. This is only the most recent failure of the Church System.

Talking about foundations and the Christian Church, consider this:

Christians have been told that the Christian Church stretches all the way back to Christ, with one or more of the Apostles at the foundation. Millions of people, some righteous and some not, have put their faith in this alleged unbroken connection of the Christian Church all the way back to the Apostles. This assumption has been repeated so often by so many it is considered obvious. Based on this assumption millions look to the Christian Church as having been built upon a solid foundation they can trust to get them through these troubled times. They depend upon doctrines of the Christian Church, like the "pre-trib rapture" for example, as their way of escape from the troubles coming upon the world.

Certainly, when we look at the "apostolic" foundation of the Christian Church, we expect to find a foundation of Rock that we can rely upon. Yet, sadly, when we take a good look below the building, again, we find nothing but another pile of shifting sand. What I'm saying is this: an objective examination of the historical evidence reveals that the Christian Church did not arise from the Apostles. In fact, the Christian Church never even existed before the middle of the 2nd century. That's right, the Christian Church is not the movement founded by Christ and the Apostles.

Hard to believe? I'll prove it to you, tonight at 8 PM CST, live, at Tsiyon.net.

If you are a Tsiyon Partner at any level of support this is available to you at Tsiyon Tabernacle at no charge. If you are a free member, sign up at any level of support, as low as $12 per month, and you can join us for these live presentations every week!

Why should you see this? Let me put it this way: the Christian Church is the Titanic and it has already hit the iceberg, even though a lot of the passengers still don't know it yet. You need to know it though, for obvious reasons.

One last thing. The answer to this question:

If the foundations are destroyed, What can the righteous do? Psalm11:3

Here is the next verse:

YHWH is in His holy temple, The throne of YHWH is in heaven; His eyes behold, His eyelids test the sons of men. Psalm11:4

When the foundations are being destroyed [like now, for example] it is a test to divide the righteous from the wicked. Draw close to YHWH, trust Him, do what He says, and you will come through that test just fine.

Blessing and Shalom,

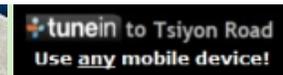

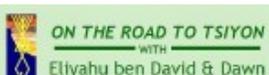

Eliyahu ben David
