As new visitors come to Tsiyon they often ask basic questions such as:

- What is the Torah? Why is Torah important?
- Are the Commandments still relevant today?
- Why is the Sabbath Important?
- What's all the fuss about His Name?
- Should we keep festivals or holidays?

Basic q+a in tonight's live video meeting, 8 CST.

From Eliyahu

Greetings Friends,

Thank you for making our live video Lord's Supper on last week's Passover Eve such a memorable event!

Many of our old friends logged in to join us, and many new friends were with us too! Remnant folk from the USA, Europe, Australia, China - folks around the world - felt a special bond in Messiah as we all partook of the Lord's Supper together.

Here are some of the comments we received about the event:

...Absolutely wonderful Passover and knowing others were "in exile" sharing the Lord's Supper was wonderful to imagine!!!!

...Wonderful to see you guys and I have to say even though still alone over here in Calif it was the best Passover! I loved how the program helped me to feel a part with others.

...Absolutely felt the same! Lovely to be connected!! The remnant need more of that!

...Hope everyone had a blessed passover, ours was wonderful, best one for a few years due to circumstances etc. Really was a blessing to take the Lord's supper together

...We just finished dancing and singing! Just in time for the midnight curfew they have on noise around here. :)

...We actually did some singing and dancing as well.

...That is so awesome!! One day we will all be together and will get to sing and dance together.

...Took the day off school for cooking! Even made my own matzah, couldn't find them here.

...Just watching your dvd with E from the tabernacle, nice way to spend an evening, feels like you're just right here.

Thanks to everyone who took time to let us know how you felt about the event.

By the way, we also got some pictures from some of you! Here are some of those:

Here at Tsiyon we had a great time of worship, with singing and dancing, after the live program. The Spirit was really moving:

Passover 2016 - what a great and joyous time!

Tonight we get back to our regular Sabbath meeting - but not exactly. Brother Gary and his family are visiting with us and I've asked Gary if he could share a word with all of us. He graciously agreed. He is going to be discussing some of the basics that people often wonder about when they are new to Tsiyon. I know we will all enjoy Gary's Good Ol' Boy style of sharing his point of view from his heart. You'll come, ya hear!

Shalom, Eliyahu

GCC leaders reject Obama's Middle East policy

Reprint: DEBKAFfile Exclusive Analysis April 23, 2016

debkafile's intelligence sources and its sources in the Gulf report exclusively that US President Barack Obama failed to convince the leaders of the six Gulf Cooperation Council member states, during their April 22 summit in Riyadh, to support his Middle East policy and cooperate with Washington. Our sources also report that Saudi Arabia, with Turkey's help, and the US carried out separate military operations several hours before the start of the summit that showed the extent of their differences.

The US on Thursday started to use its giant B-52 bombers against ISIS in an attempt to show Gulf leaders that it is determined to quash the terrorist organization's threat to Gulf states. The bombers deployed at Qatar's Al Udeid airbase attacked targets around Mosul in northern Iraq, but the targets were not identified.

Meanwhile, Saudi Arabia and Turkey, which recently established a bloc along with Egypt and Jordan to oppose Obama's Middle East policy, started to infiltrate a force of 3,500 rebels back into Syria.

The force has been trained and financed by the Saudis at special camps in Turkey and Jordan. Members of the force are now fighting alongside other rebels north of Aleppo, but they are being bombed heavily by the Russian and Syrian air forces. Riyadh sent the rebels into Syria to demonstrate to Obama that the Saudi royal family opposes the policy of diplomatic and military cooperation between the US and Russia regarding Syria that enables President Bashar Assad to remain in power in Damascus. Since the war in Syria began in 2011, Obama has promised countless times that Washington would train and arm Syrian rebel forces outside the country, and then deploy them in Syria in order to strengthen rebel forces. However, it has not done so except for one instance in 2015. The US infiltrated a small force consisting of no more than several dozen fighters, but it was destroyed by the Nusra Front, an affiliate of Al Qaeda, shortly after it crossed the border. The terrorist group had apparently been tipped off about the arrival of the pro-American force.

All of Washington’s efforts to recruit and train Syrian fighters, which have cost close to $1 billion, have failed. debkafile’s sources report exclusively that the leaders of the six GCC member states put their previous differences aside and presented Obama with four requests aimed at building a new joint policy regarding the region. According to our sources, these requests were:

1. Action by Washington to strengthen the Sunni majority in Iraq and facilitate representation of the Sunnis in the central government in Baghdad. The Gulf rulers told Obama that his policy of trying to win the support of Iraqi Prime Minister Haider al-Abadi is mistaken. They also pointed out reports by their intelligence services that al-Abadi is likely to be deposed and be replaced by a pro-Iranian prime minister in the near future. Obama rejected the request and said he refuses to change his Iraq policy.

2. Imposition of new US sanctions on Iran over its continuing ballistic missile tests. On April 19, several hours before Obama’s departure for Riyadh, Iran carried out its latest act of defiance by attempting to launch a satellite into orbit using one of its “Simorgh” intercontinental ballistic missiles. The missile failed to leave the Earth’s atmosphere, fell to earth and crashed along with the satellite. Obama turned down the Gulf leaders on new sanctions as well.

3. Provision of US-made F-35 fighter-bombers to Saudi Arabia and the UAE so they can take action against the Iranian missile threat. The US president declined the request.

4. Abandonment of Washington’s cooperation with Russia and the UN for political solution in Syria, and instead cooperate with Gulf states and Turkey to end the war and depose President Bashar Assad. Obama refused.

In other words, the summit in Riyadh, Obama’s final meeting with GCC leaders before he leaves the White House next January, ended without a single agreement.
