From Eliyahu:

Shalom friends,

If you have been with Tsiyon for any length of time you know that we have long predicted that the end of the state of Israel's 70th year would spark prophetic expectations in the Christian world. In fact, many sincere Christians are now arriving at that point of great prophetic expectation, due to the 70 year anniversary of the modern day state of Israel being up this spring. For example, the well known Christian ministry, Prophecy News Watch, recently published an article entitled God's Numerical Patterns: Israel's 70th Year & Bible Prophecy. Here are excerpts:

Israel's 70th year, ending spring 2019, marks the convergence of four prophetic timespans and the drafting of the most anticipated Middle East peace plan in half a century. If this once-in-history convergence is God's way of declaring the season of His return, the world may soon see the Rapture and the beginning of the Tribulation week.

In this scenario, the Church's redemption occurs "seven sevens" after Jerusalem's rebuilding began, while Israel's redemption occurs after "seventy sevens," at the end of Daniel's 70th week. The dividing line that separates the Church Age from the time of Jacob's Trouble is Israel's 70th year.

...This is why Jesus links the time of His return to the rebirth of Israel and a definite (generation) timespan (Matt. 24:32-34; Ps. 90:10). This is why Scripture is brimming with typologies like the 70 years in Babylon, which commentators agree is a picture of humanity's time of separation or exile in the fallen world.

To be clear, I do not oppose the study of Bible prophecy by any earnest seeking person. Further, I firmly believe that the Scripture cannot be broken, and that every word of prophecy in Scripture either has come true, or yet will come true, right on time. This belief has fueled my own study of Bible prophecy for over 50 years, and I have shared a lot of what I have discovered with you in books, audio and video teachings. For example, just a few months ago I released a series of video teachings on the Ages of the World, promoted at the bottom of this page. I have a lot more prophecy material available free of charge at the Tsiyon.Net website for anyone who will take the time to sign up as a free member. What I have published is not just another knock-off of popular ideas and teachings. I do all original research and much that I have discovered and shared is unique.

Having said all that, I will now comment on the prophecy expectations published by PNW and the many other Christian ministries who hold similar views.

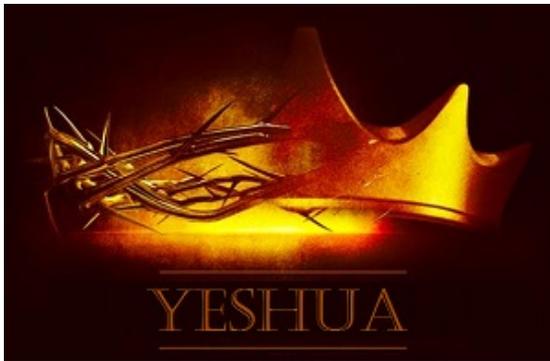

First, here are some things I agree with:

- The modern day experience of Israel in the Land is a prophetic sign.
- Yeshua did give us a definite timespan of one generation in which all the signs would be fulfilled.
- At the end of that generation Yeshua will return in glory.

Here are some assumptions that fatally flaw the PNW predictions:

- They have been wrong about the starting point of the generation in the past, and still are.
- Today's Church was not started by Yeshua, but continues a heretical group from the 2nd century.
- Therefore the Church is not a replacement for Israel in the world, and there is no "Church Age."
- There will be no "pre-tribulation Rapture" of the heretical Church in 2019 or ever.
- 2019 will not be the year of the Rapture or of the Coming of Christ.

In pointing out these flaws I do not mean to attack Christians. Many of them ARE saved by the blood of Yeshua, and I recognize that. However, the framework which they call "The Church" can be shown through historical sources to be a man-made framework, not of God, that has survived in the world until now. I have a detailed teaching on that at the Tsiyon website. However, if you think about it, you already know this is true. This accounts for the long history of atrocities, scandals, rivalries, wars and disunity of the Church down through history. "You will know a tree by its fruit" said Yeshua. The Church is obviously not a tree He planted. It is a fake, so certainly not the center of the so-called "Church Age" - nor will He immortalize that man-made monstrosity by "rapturing" it into eternity. Basically, if you have accepted a dispensational prophetic picture that claims some sort of "Church Age" then you have accepted an outlook not based on the facts of history or of the Scripture. It is a prophetic picture that is hopelessly and fatally flawed.

This is, admittedly, a hard pill for millions of Christians, awaiting the "pre-trib rapture," to swallow. However, Yeshua Himself spoke of these days and the upcoming end of the world, and return of Christ. His words leave no doubt that there will be no "pre-trib rapture of the Church." In fact, He makes it very clear that His disciples will be gathered to Him at His Return, after the Tribulation. This, and much more will be included in our live online study of Luke 17, which we are calling Kingdom Come. In this study we will reveal important answers about the coming of Messiah and His Kingdom. Join us tonight for our live Tsiyon meeting as we consider Luke 17, at 8 PM CST at Tsiyon.Net. The Kingdom is coming!

Shalom,

Eliyahu

NOTE: You may or may not agree with political issues and conclusions of the Bulletin of Atomic Scientists - but their Doomsday Clock says its almost the end of the world.

The Doomsday Clock says it's almost the end of the world as we know it. (And that's not fine.)

(CNN) If you have anything left on your bucket list, do it now, because the world is close to annihilation. That's according to the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, which gave its annual presentation of the Doomsday Clock on Thursday.

Reprint: CNN, January 24, 2019

The world is 2 minutes from doom. A group of scientists and scholars, including 15 Nobel laureates, set the clock at 11:58 p.m. -- two minutes before the symbolic apocalyptic midnight.

The minute hand didn't move since last year. But 11:58 p.m. is the closest the clock has ever been to symbolizing doom.

"The fact that the Doomsday Clock's hands did not change is bad news," said Robert Rosner, chair of the Bulletin's Science and Security Board.

So why are we so close to destruction? Nuclear weapons and climate change, experts say.

"In the nuclear realm, the United States abandoned the Iran nuclear deal and announced it would withdraw from the Intermediate-range Nuclear Forces Treaty (INF), grave steps towards a complete dismantlement of the global arms control process," the Bulletin said.

Running the Doomsday Clock is a full-time job. Really. "The Iran agreement is not perfect, but it serves the interest of the international community in restraining the spread of nuclear weapons."

As for climate change, "global carbon dioxide emissions -- which seemed to plateau earlier this decade -- resumed an upward climb in 2017 and 2018," the Bulletin said.

"To halt the worst effects of climate change, the countries of the world must cut net worldwide carbon dioxide emissions to zero by well before the end of the century."

The Doomsday Clock hasn't always spelled doom and gloom since it was first introduced in the 1940s. Back in 1991, it was set at a whopping 17 minutes before midnight. But before the clock struck 11:58 p.m. in both 2018 and 2019, the last time the world was considered so close to annihilation was in 1953, when the United States and the Soviet Union were in a nuclear arms race.
