The End of the World

What if history is not just a random series of events?

What if it is HisStory - pre-planned for a purpose?

Could Bible Prophecy simply be HisStory written in advance?

Could we be at the end of the world?

From Eliyahu

Consider this:

The 21st Century is totally unique in history. The world-changing technology of this period is the first thing many associate with these times. This technological progress was foreseen by many, who believed the global internet and related technologies would bring in an era of unparalleled peace and prosperity for the world. Yes, most of us have had cell phones now for sometime, tiny supercomputers electronically connecting us to each other and to the world. There have also been advances in medicine that have benefitted some while leaving others behind. After naming the internet, mobile phones and medical advances, it starts getting difficult to add to the list of benefits of the 21st Century for the average person. These benefits have not amounted to the net gain promised by the technology. In fact, by every scientific measure, on average people have been getting less happy, less hopeful, more fearful, and more angry - as they also have grown less prosperous and uncertain of the future, over the last 20 years. Why is this?

The truth is, the goal of those who control the levers of power in the world has not been to make average people more prosperous and happier - despite all disingenuous claims to the contrary. Quite to the contrary, they see it as being in their interest to make people unhappy, fearful of the future, and as discontented as possible. Why? Prosperous and happy people are reluctant to accept radical change - and radical change is what the elite are after. Make no mistake, the elite see the 21st Century as THEIR century! They have a plan to get unprecedented global control, involving massive change, and they are working it.

The elite have used the unprecedented technology of this era to drain the pockets of the majority, to make the super-wealthy more prosperous than at any time in history. The difference in wealth between the haves and the have-nots has never been greater, with just 8 people controlling more wealth than half the world! I'm not saying these eight comprise the entire elite. Not at all. It is a somewhat larger group, though still small and exclusive, that controls all of the major corporations of the world, through which they exercise more power than national governments, in fact actually using their vast resources to control governments on every level. They have rigged the system, so that every new disaster for the average person is a boon for the .01 percent. They have also rigged the world to get more control over the personal lives of the population. This is what globalism is all about - controlling the world's people who would otherwise rise up against the super-wealthy technocrats who are fleecing the wealth of the world while stealing the privacy and freedom of the people. If you were to deliberately hurt people, you would expect pushback, and the globalists do. That's why they enlist brilliantly insane people with every possible expertise to continually weave elaborate schemes and fake news stories to misdirect attention away from the real villains onto others. They deliberately create racial tensions, social tensions and political tensions, and even a gap between the generations, to keep the people fighting among themselves - instead of seeing the true source of the world's ills and dealing with that.

As we look back over the 21st Century, we see a pattern over time that looks something like a layer cake, with layers laid down and left in place, with each successive layer stacked one upon the other. At this point, remaining future layers, as projected and published by the globalist architects - the 'bakers' of the cake - can be known. The bakers may vary the timeframe a little, so the dates may vary a little, but this is a pretty good picture of the final cake, otherwise known as the One World Government. When the cake is fully constructed and 'baked' it will be a birthday cake - namely the birthday of the global government foretold in the prophecies of Daniel, Revelation, and other books of the Bible. Once this happens, those prophecies indicate we will have entered the last seven years of this Age, to be followed immediately by the return of Messiah and the Millennial Kingdom. The question you need to ask yourself is this: Does this globalist plan, much of which is already accomplished, really match the prophecies of Scripture, and the Biblical timeline therein? If the answer to that question is 'yes' then you have everything at stake and surviving this upcoming period with faith fully in tact must be your highest priority. In that case, you need to be getting ready!

Tonight we are presenting our final message in the series on "The Ages of This World". This message is entitled "The End of This World." This message will focus on the same timeframe as covered by the Globalist Layer Cake shown here. Compare that globalist plan with Bible prophecy and judge for yourself whether this is for real. It is rather jolting to look at dates and events indicated in Bible prophecy, but that is exactly what this message does. Can you handle that? If so, invite your friends and relatives as well. This will be aired tonight, at tsiyon.net, at 8 pm cst. The prophetic clock is ticking down - rapidly. It is vital for you to know what is really going on.

Blessings and good health to you!
