From Eliyahu

Consider this:

Do you know the difference between 'the narrative' and the truth?

'Truth' is solid reality - what actually is or what actually happened. $2+2=4$ is the truth, for example. You can test that over and over again, from every possible direction, and it remains the solid truth. No matter how much the truth is assailed, obfuscated or attacked it remains the truth and will always remain so, whether it is accepted as truth or not. When a person believes and acts on the truth they are acting in accord with reality. This is what reasonable people call 'sanity.'

'The narrative' is meant to be accepted as truth, and often is. It is the story created and disseminated for public consumption by those with the influence to do so. It may include elements of the truth - or it may be entirely fictitious.

The narrative is not about revealing the truth, although it usually claims to be. The real purpose of the narrative is to be more believable to the target group of people than the truth itself, so that the narrative will be accepted as the truth - even though it is just a story.

If the story requires people to accept that $2+2=5$ it can be done. First, the judgment of the target group must be undermined. If you are among the target group 'they' will try to convince you that since you are not a professional mathematician you are not an accepted expert, so are not qualified to understand how $2+2$ now equals 5.

The next step is obvious. Next they will roll out a list of accepted experts (with a smattering of movie stars and celebrities thrown in) all of whom attest to the 'fact' that $2+2$ is now indeed 5. It matters not that there are other actual experts that will refute the narrative, since those experts can simply be suppressed so that their voices will not be heard.

Further, the official organizations that oversee the intricacies of mathematics will step forward to certify the findings of the experts that $2+2$ is now 5, and that it is in the public interest for all good citizens to support this new 'truth.' This makes it a public good to accept that $2+2=5$.

Of course, this implies the people that still believe $2+2=4$ are hopelessly out of date, clinging to old fashioned ideas that have been debunked by the experts. They are standing in the way of progress, so must be vilified by society, and punished as the worthless scumbags they are now considered to be. At this point, $2+2$ may as well actually be 5, so far as the majority is concerned.

The truth is, only mindless fools accept such a narrative as truth. Many who don't believe it pretend they do, however. They don't want to be seen by society as part of the backward scumbag camp. The social costs connected with that are just too much for them. So they go along to get along.

The Narrative

*"..your eyes
will be opened,
and you will be like God.."*

Does this sound at all familiar to you? Of course, the whole covid fiasco comes to mind. However, this phenomenon of replacing the truth with a more believable narrative was not invented for covid. It has been going on since the devil deceived

Eve. From this we learn that believing false narratives as truth is dangerous.

Since then every generation of mankind has been under the influence of false narratives. The effect has been lies stacked up upon lies for thousands of years. Lies that have been accepted as truth over centuries have stacked up and been worked into the ongoing narrative, woven like a huge web of deception by the seed of the devil in the earth. Each generation thinks they are the best. They are so sure they finally know what the truth is. Really, each generation is more deceived than the one before it - and so it goes unto the end of the world.

..And what about you? Are you deceived?

None of us wants to think we have been deceived. However, the odds are against you. Right now every person on earth is deceived about something - and more probably about many things. My first piece of advice for anyone who wants to escape the mountain of lies upon which society is built is to do your own homework. You cannot just believe the experts, because the experts are paid to support the narrative. The more experts are rolled out the more likely you are being fed a false narrative. Even science has been hijacked. The studies that support the narrative get funded while those against it (and therefore more likely true) get suppressed. The system is against you; start from that premise and go from there.

Don't be like Eve. Eve had access to the absolute truth - the Creator Himself! Yet, the false narrative was more emotionally appealing to her, so she went with her emotions, and the rest is history. People still respond the same way - they go with their emotions even when the Word of Truth is very clear to the contrary. If that's what you do then you are deceived right now, and always will be deceived. Unless you repent of that and instead start judging truth by Truth you are doomed.

Indeed, the Word of Truth, revealed by the Spirit of Truth, is the one and only defense we have against the vast web of deception that the devil has woven over the generations, and has perfected for use by modern technology to ensnare us, and to kill us. None of this is a mere mental exercise. This is life and death. True, we can't know all truth, but we are assured in Scripture that we have what we need to do the Divine Will, and therefore to end up on the right side of eternity.

"The secret things belong to YHWH our Elohim; but the things that are revealed belong to us and to our children forever, that we may do all the words of this Torah." Duet 29:29

The forever truth that has been revealed in the Sacred Scriptures belongs to us and our children forever. To what end? "..that we may do all the words of this Torah." We have what we need to do the Divine Will. So let's do that!

Join me tonight at Tsiyon.Net at 8 PM, CST. As we consider Deuteronomy 29 we can test it out to see an example of how truth stands the test of time. This is truly astounding!

Blessings and good health to you,

Eliyahu
