From Eliyahu

Consider this:

The core problems in the world today all revolve around the same issue - that issue is authority. When you boil down all aspects and angles of this topic you will arrive at one overriding question - where does rightful authority come from?

The Biblical answer to that question is this: ".. there is no authority except from God" (Romans 13:1). The Creator delegated authority (dominion) to man at Creation, to be passed down to every person born in every generation.

"God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the birds of the sky, and over the livestock, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creeps on the earth." (Gen 1:26)

Legitimate government in the affairs of men must derive its authority from the people, since YHWH delegated authority to the people at Creation. This fact has been understood and upheld in the writings of Bible believers for centuries. For example, John Milton (1608 – 1674 AD) wrote:

"The power of kings and magistrates is nothing else, but what is only derivative, transferred and committed to them in trust from the people, to the common good of them all, in whom the power yet remains fundamentally, and cannot be taken from them, without a violation of their natural birthright." (John Milton Works V: 10)

This concept, that legitimate government must receive its authority from the consent of the governed, was already a well established concept by the time the founders of the United States attempted to found a new country upon it. Thus, we find this famous statement in the 2nd paragraph of the Declaration of Independence:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.--That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, --That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness."

The founders understood that the tendency of rulers throughout history has been to disregard the will of the people, and to continually attempt to overreach legitimate authority. This is a fundamental reason The Second Amendment to the United States Constitution protects the right to keep and bear arms. That amendment states:

"A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed."

The Supreme Court in District of Columbia v. Heller, 554 U.S. 570 (2008), has explained the purpose and meaning of those words:

"The "militia" comprised all males physically capable of acting in concert for the common defense. The Antifederalists feared that the Federal Government would disarm the people in order to disable this citizens' militia, enabling a politicized standing army or a select militia to rule. The response was to deny Congress power to abridge the ancient right of individuals to keep and bear arms, so that the ideal of a citizens' militia would be preserved.."

Thus, the 2nd Amendment is not primarily about hunting, or even self-defense, although also involved. At its core the 2nd Amendment is about preserving the authority over the government in the hands of the people. This is the strongest possible affirmation of the proposition that the Creator put authority in the world of mankind into the hands of each and every person - but why was such a drastic deterrent as potential lethal force deemed necessary by the founders?

The founders understood that there is another theory of authority in the world, and active throughout history. That theory of authority can be summed up in the words "might makes right." The 2nd Amendment is thus meant to be a direct deterrent against overwhelming power in the hands of a governing elite. When "might makes right" was no longer palatable, the elites needed a new justification for tyranny. They found that justification in the Darwinian concept of "survival of the fittest", which was invented to justify and maintain colonial domination by the wealthy elites of Europe over native peoples, without their consent. "Scientific" conquest and tyranny.

Before that iteration of the raw power concept of government, the same body of elites relied on something called "the divine right of kings" to dominate unwilling subjects. In that regard, it is interesting to see that same dynamic preserved in 2023, in the coronation ceremony of King Charles III, in which his "subjects" are to be invited to pledge allegiance to the King.

Actually, we are right now in the midst of a war on all humanity meant to bring mankind under an illegitimate world government that seeks to completely overthrow all God-given authority. This was introduced to the world at the United Nations in the fall of 2015, when the entire General Assembly ratified Agenda 2030 - essentially, the elite plan to take over and control everything and everyone on earth. This of course, is the reason for all the madness since 2015. This year we are half way to completion of the 2030 Agenda and the installation of a one world government.

Of course the World Economic Forum and United Nations are feeling the resistance of freedom-lovers everywhere, so they see the need for a new and more aggressive strategy to actualize the Agenda 2030 Sustainable Development Goals and the Great Reset. To that end, they have announced a September 18-19, 2023 Summit in New York, which will "mark the beginning of a new phase of accelerated progress towards the Sustainable Development Goals," according to the U.N. website. If you think things have been crazy over the last seven years, you haven't seen nothing yet! In the remaining years the craziness will be speeded up so that, by 2030, the world will be completely unrecognizable from what it is today, with tyranny in full sway.

What patriots will find in the end is that the 2nd Amendment will be no deterrent to the economic and technological power of the world's elites, and their army of the world's traitors who have been bought off, coerced, or deceived into supporting the illegitimate and evil usurpation of all human authority.

We have now arrived at the final play for world domination. What should you do?

We must turn to our Creator for answers. He remains the source of all real authority, and He can show us the way through this. Something like this illegitimate power-grab happened on a smaller scale in 1st Century Judea, and YHWH sent a Forerunner with the authority to tell the truth and point the way. That Forerunner was Yochanan the Immerser. Tonight at our live meeting we will be taking a closer look at him, and the authority he had from above. Join our live-stream tonight at Tsiyon.Net at 8 PM, CST. The audio from the live stream will also be broadcast on Tsiyon Road radio at Tsiyon.Org at the same time. These are monumental times of universal importance, so please do't miss even one live message in this Yeshua's Narrow Way series.

In His Name,

Eliyahu
